WRJ is the women's affiliate of the Union for Reform Judaism in North America.

For nearly a century, WRJ has provided affiliated women's groups/sisterhoods with information and resource materials covering all aspects of leadership and membership. Over the years, the look and style of our materials have changed, but the topics addressed have remained fairly constant: membership campaign strategies, leadership skills, social justice issues, spirituality, and worship.

Stronger together, our sisterhoods represent women from every walk of life, every corner of North America and even around the world. What these groups share is that they are women, they are Reform/Progressive Jews, and they are committed to congregational life.

WHAT IS SISTERHOOD?

We're a Jewish women's organization --- the backbone of Temple Sinai Congregation, supporting and enhancing all of its spiritual and social activities, making these events warm and welcoming.

Sisterhood kindles the individual's spirit of Judaism and ignites lasting friendships.

We are members of Women of Reform Judaism (WRJ), the women's affiliate of the Union of Reform Judaism, the central body of Reform Judaism of North America.

Our organization offers strength and support to the congregation at large, as well as to our own membership. We come from varied geographical locations, backgrounds, teachings and experience but the bond of Judaism connects us in a special way. We unite under the banner of sisterhood and friendship, developing meaningful ties to Judaism, one another and our congregation.

WHAT DOES SISTERHOOD DO?

We oversee our gift shop, L'Dor V'Dor, and the selling of Judaica.

We assist congregant families at Bar/Bat Mitzvah Oneg receptions.
